PROGRAM CHANGES ON WRMC-FM

The programming changes described in this month's issue of FMphasis (the weekly schedule is in grid form on the centerfold,and the weekend schedule is on page six) are a temporary holdover for the College's Winter Term. In most cases, the same type of music is still heard at the times it was heard before Christmas, but many of the announcers have changed time slots because of their new class schedules(it is because the Winter Term schedules were not known until this month, by the way, that we could not make up this is issue in time for distribution right after vacation. Sorry!)

In February, when the Spring Term begins, WRMC-FM will again offer a more permanent programming schedule, and the next issue of FMphasis will, of course, publish this new schedule.

Included in the Spring term programming will be some time changes for the weekend shows, some new, experimental programs, and several radio plays. These plays will be produced and directed by Mr. Charles Hernan, the same man who was responsible for WRMC-FM's successful radio version of Christopher Marlowe's Dr. Faustus, which was broadcast last fall.

Look for the next FMphasis--and WRMC-FM's new Spring programming.

PANTHER HOCKEY ON WRMC-FM IN JANUARY

The WRMC-FM Sports Department will be covering the Middlebury College hockey games with live coverage of most of the team's schedule. More games will be broadcast if they become crucial games in the team's league standings. Dave Schooler and Wayne Scott will travel with the team to broadcast the play-by-play of the Panthers' away games. And don't forget to bring your portable FM to the home games; Trip Reeb and Clay Carr will intersperse interesting sidelights with their descriptions of the action on the ice. Hear all the action of the following games on WRMC-FM:

Jan. 22, 7:30.....U.V.M. (away)
Jan. 24, 3:30.....Williams(home)
Jan. 31, 8:00.....St. Lawrence(away)

Don't be a dropout. Go to ski school on Heads.

Heads are the skis that made the Learn To Ski Week possible. Responsive and forgiving because they were designed to be, Head Standards let you feel confident the first hour, competent the first day. Head Shortskis are even easier to learn on. Ask the Head Man how to get the best Head start.
